Major Data Center Provider Expands Presence in Europe's Biggest Data Center Markets

DALLAS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Oct. 17, 2018-- CyrusOne (NASDAQ: CONE), a premier global data center REIT, today announced the locations of new data centers in both London and Frankfurt. Construction is set to be completed by the end of the fourth quarter of 2019 for the London III facility, while the Frankfurt III facility is scheduled to be completed in early 2020. These sites are in addition to the data centers acquired through the Zenium acquisition, which closed in August 2018.

Located on the Slough Trading Estate, a premier data center location in the UK, CyrusOne's London III data center will offer approximately 39,500 square feet of world-class data center space with a critical IT load of 9 MW. Each data hall will be customized to meet client specifications and will offer industry-leading energy efficiencies including the latest adiabatic cooling technology and low PUE's.

Upon completion, CyrusOne's Frankfurt III data center will include two connected four-story data centers offering a total of approximately 123,786 square feet of space. The facility will provide a critical IT load of 22 MW with multiple fiber providers providing carrier neutral connectivity.

"Today marks an exciting new chapter for CyrusOne as we set the course for our continued expansion in London and Frankfurt. Part of our mission at CyrusOne is to help the world's leading technology companies power this new exciting digital era," said Gary Wojtaszek, president and chief executive officer of CyrusOne. "Expanding our footprint in these markets will help our customers realize their own global growth ambitions."
